

Dear Channel Partner,

This is a follow up communication from TE Connectivity ("TE") on the coronavirus that was sent to you on January 31st.

While the situation continues to remain fluid, our corporate emergency taskforce continues to meet daily to address critical requirements for safety and governmental policy in resuming normal operations.

As of today, all manufacturing plants in China have resumed operations and are in the process of increasing staff levels towards normalized production. While there continues to be restrictive measures in place by many provincial or municipal governmental authorities, along with reduced, but improving capacity to local and international transportation, we have and will continue to develop alternative logistics and warehousing solutions to mitigate product delivery impact.

To date, no manufacturing operations outside of China have been impacted.

We remain committed to assist our partners through this unforeseeable event and appreciate your continued support of our mutual customers. Please liaise with your TE sales representatives or customer service staff if you have concerns that your orders or projects with TE might be impacted.

Please cascade this message as appropriate within your organization. Should you have any questions regarding this notice, contact your TE sales representative.

Given the coronavirus situation continues to evolve globally, we will continue to keep our partners updated if there are any material changes to the above situation.

Regards,

Sean Miller
